These Workshops are Recommended For

Health professionals working with people living with dementia. Including, but not limited to, doctors, nurses, occupational and diversional therapists, physiotherapists, psychologists, social workers, speech pathologists and tertiary level students.

About the Workshops

This one day program will comprise of two workshops; Relationship-Centred Care, and Involving People with Dementia in Research, experiences from the UK.

Relationship Centred Care will outline the constituent elements of relationship centred care in dementia and how to use the approach to inform practice/research partnerships. The introduction of community relationships will be addressed and opportunities will be provided to share current practice and approaches to care.

Involving People with Dementia in Research: experiences from the UK will introduce some of the work undertaken by the Dementia and Ageing Research Team at the University of Manchester, UK. The workshop will provide an opportunity to share user involvement experiences and to engage in a process of centre stage diagramming which is aimed at focusing on what is meaningful to participants using their words and life experiences.
